

Mya is a student and avid bus rider at USC. She knows that everyday, the bus comes at the same time. She leaves as late as she can so she won't have to wait in the cold. Here, how she found out she would wait a little longer.

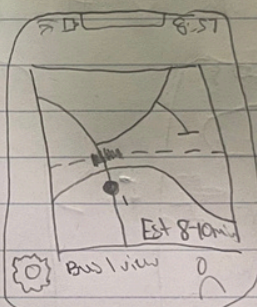

Almost time to leave

Precious notification saying her bus will be late, clicks on it to get details.

Clicks on "Track" to review bus situation.

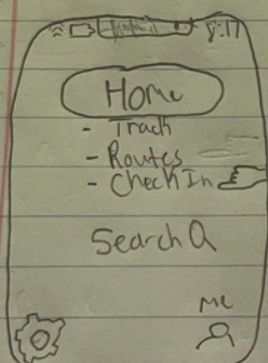

She now sees a train is holding up her bus, and now has an ETA to go off of.

Guess I have more time to chillie

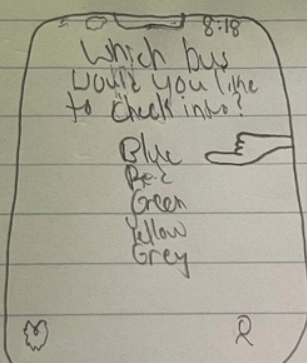

Shawn is a CompSci student at USC. It's early in the morning, and he needs to get ready quick because he missed his alarm. Every morning, he tracks and waits for the buses, but today, he doesn't have the time for that. Luckily, he turned on notifications so the bus app will tell him when a bus is close.

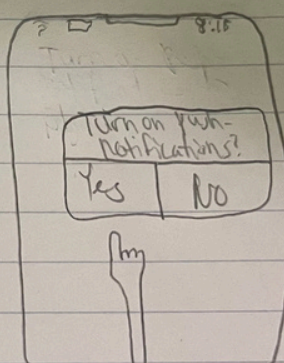

How can I track the bus without waiting.

Open the "Check In" menu

Choose the bus to check info.

Click yes and start receiving updates!

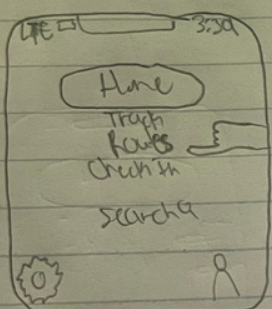

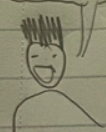

Ah Oh!

Bus is here!

Jay is a student at USC who doesn't ride the buses often, nor knows much about them. He overhears one day that some routes actually have multiple buses. He asks, and finds out about the bus tracking app.

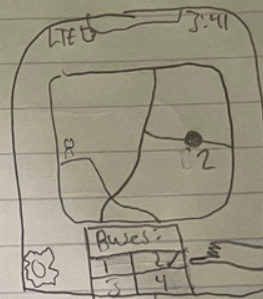

Let's check out this app

He opens up the app for the first time and lands on the home page, where he clicks "Routes."

He clicks "Bus View" to change to another location of a bus on the same route.

He chooses bus 2, and now sees that it is much closer to him.

I can get home faster now.
